

ANGELFISH REEF

Welcome to an extraordinary Caribbean retreat. Rejuvenate your soul in this secluded home surrounded by shimmering turquoise water and soothing, refreshing tropical breezes.

A convenient 80 minute flight from Miami, Florida, Angelfish Reef is on the island of Providenciales (Provo) in Turks and Caicos, British West Indies. Only a 10 minute drive from the Provo airport and you arrive at this very private, one bedroom vacation paradise.

Completed in 1998, it offers all the amenities and comforts of home, yet it is away from the large resorts. The property has a unique flavor rarely found anywhere in the world. The picture perfect views from the wrap around deck are absolutely spectacular. Many people say Provo has the most beautiful water in the world. And you may want to spend hours marveling at the ever changing colors of the water from the privacy of your own home, perhaps while lounging from the double hammock on the deck. Constant breezes always keep you comfortable. These photographs only give you a small hint of the beauty that will touch your soul...

The house is one lot off the water on both sides. On the bedroom side (east), which gives you a 300 degree water view, the sun rises over Chalk Sound National Park with its dozens of cays and continuously changing water color, with a creamy turquoise color and 100+ additional shades that appear depending on the sun and cloud conditions. To bathe in the glorious warm, crystalline waters of the Sound, take a 2-minute walk from the house. And you're there! The beautiful, secluded white sand beach of Taylor Bay is just a 4-minute drive from the house.

From the living room (west) the sun sets over the Caribbean Sea. Free entertainment is provided each night, simply enjoy the dramatically colorful sunset show. The wrap around deck was designed so you may continuously marvel at the ever-changing panoramic view.

The Turks and Caicos Islands, comprising eight islands and some 40 cays, lie at the southeastern end of the Bahamas chain, 575 miles southeast of Miami and 90 miles north of the island of Hispaniola. The islands are generally flat, with rolling hills.

The house has all the creature comforts to ensure your pleasurable and relaxing sojourn. Cathedral ceilings give it an open and spacious feel. The main area of the house (living room, dining area & kitchen) includes: 2 ceiling fans, one A/C wall unit, fully stocked kitchen (microwave, coffee maker, etc.), queen sleep sofa, satellite TV with HBO, VCR, stereo and telephone. The west deck includes a gas grill, 2 chaise lounges, large dining table & chairs including seating for 6 and an umbrella.

The spacious bedroom has a new queen size bed above which is a ceiling fan. Also included are: an a/c wall unit, a 7 foot wide closet and two double sliding glass doors that seduce you onto the east deck which has a cafe table with 2 chairs and a double hammock. Linens and bath towels are provided. The house also has a full bathroom.

Downstairs, on ground level, are a shaded patio (10x18 feet), an outdoor shower, washer and dryer and plenty of space to park your vehicle and walk around the yard.

The island offers many comforts: including secluded beaches, world class scuba diving with a variety of operators to choose from, world class fishing, sailing, 18 hole championship golf course, shopping, gambling, many restaurants, modern grocery stores, the only conch farm in the world, and a quiet Caribbean life style on this 37 square mile island. Development on the island is just beginning to boom. We suggest you visit now while it is still a relatively "undeveloped" paradise. Some refer to the island as being like Grand Cayman was 30 years ago. For more information just call or email us and let us know what more we can tell you.

Diving

Diving is world class with pristine waters, abundant coral reefs and marine life. There are several different dive operations. Fifi of Caicos Adventures has discovered many of the sites off West Caicos (an uninhabited island) where they dive. He offers wonderful lunches and great service. For more info on Caicos Adventures try their web site: <http://www.caicosadventures.tc> or email them at divucrzy@tciway.tc or for U.S. reservations 800-513-5822.

Fishing

Fishing is also world class (Marlin, Sailfish, Wahoo, Tuna, Mackerel, Dolphin, Barracuda & Shark). Every July there is an International Annual Billfish Tournament. The pot is in the 6 digits and some marlins come in at over 500 pounds. There are always extraordinary fishing boats at the marina, which they are expanding due to the growing popularity of Provo as a fishing destination. There are numerous charter companies available such as, <http://www.jbtours.com/> & <http://www.Provo.net/Gwendolyn/>

Sailing

Sail to an uninhabited island, enjoy a sunset cruise or chart your own course. Operations are flexible and affordable. Try <http://www.SailProvo.com/> or email sailprovo@tciway.tc

Snorkeling & Beaches

A two-minute walk from the house & you can swim & snorkel in Chalk Sound National Park. A 4-minute drive from the house puts you on Taylor Bay, a small quiet bay where you frequently see starfish in the calm, crystal waters. It faces west & therefore is a very nice place to watch the sunset & look for the famous green flash that occurs just as the sun sets in a cloudless sky.

Provo is becoming well known for Grace Bay (a 12-mile stretch) which Conde Nast readers 1999 rated as the most beautiful beach in the world. The sand feels like baby powder. One of the world's top ranked snorkeling areas (Smiths Reef) is on Grace Bay. There are other beaches, some very secluded, that we have found over the years. It is nice to explore; perhaps you will find your own paradise beach. Caicos Adventures (see above) may take you to West Caicos for snorkeling and strolling on this uninhabited island. Snorkel trips are also available to other near by islands.

Golf

This 18-hole championship course and Golf Club is open to visitors. Rental clubs, carts, driving range and packages are available. Try <http://www.provogolfclub.com/> or email provgolf@tciway.tc
